THE FSIP DELIVERY PROCESS

WHY FOODSERVICE IP?

EXPERIENCE COUNTS. In most research and consulting firms, partners and senior executives design and sell a consulting engagement, only to turn the project over to junior staff. At FSIP, we take pride in how our leadership remains fully engaged in each assignment from start to finish, ensuring clients receive the results that only a seasoned professional can provide.

PROVEN TRACK RECORD. We know the food business inside and out. Our analysts' cumulative experience spans 30 years across the entire food and beverage industry. We are veteran thought-leaders who have worked for big-name firms. In contrast to larger companies, FSIP is fresh, agile, and committed to excellence and the highest research standards at a price that beats our competitors.

ANSWERING THE WHYS AND THE HOWS. We provide end-to-end engagements from scoping a project, to identifying the hypothesis to test. We synthesize the raw data we gather into compact and strategic options that you can use to hit the ground running.

RELATIONSHIPS FIRST. We take the time to understand a client's business before, during, and after the engagement so that implications and recommendations are relevant, measurable, and on target with your business needs.

AUTHENTIC STRATEGIC THINKING. We know that not all phenomena and real-world events fit into a linear model. True strategic thinking is not linear. FSIP will work tirelessly to find creative and innovative solutions to your most pressing issues — so that you don't have to.
